Unlike rings, there is no standard sizing chart in the UK for bangles. We have therefore created our own sizing chart for reference. We have 5 sizes available as standard, and these can be measured using similar techniques to the rings.

When wearing a bangle, the sizing is all to do with your hand size, and when putting a bangle on you should be able to push over the hand firmly but not too snug that the bangle is scraping your knuckles. Equally, if the bangle slips easily over the hand then this is also no good as you will have a runaway bangle!
